Description:

Interesting railroad map of the Eastern United States focusing on the routes of the Boston & Maine Railroad, specifically from Washington, D.C., to Boston, and the subsidiary routes west to the Mississippi.

The map is embellished with an inset image of the Poughkeepsie Bridge, which had been built over the Hudson River a few years earlier in 1889. It has now been converted to the Walkway over the Hudson, a New York State Historic Park.

The map was engraved by Rand Avery Supply Co. Engravers.

Detailed Condition:

Folding map, printed front and back.
