Description:

Scarce map of Texas, Upper California, Mexico and the U.S., featuring unusually up to date cartography for the period. The mythical lakes and conjectural rivers of the Western US are removed, evidently the result of early information from Fremont. The Upper California Missions are named and there nearly a dozen Indian Tribes located, along with other early Spanish Missions in Teexas and the Southwest. Ft. Calhoun is shown on the Missouri and Astoria is named in Oregon. The Mission San Gabriel appears, one of its rare appearances on a map. Santa Catalina Island is also shown. Nice detail throughout.
