Description:

Rare large format chart of the southern coast of Hainan, from Sayer and Bennett's East-India Pilot, or Oriental Navigator . . .

This chart is drawn from the work of Captain John Haldane, who conducted a survey of the region for the British East India Company between 1776 and 1777. The map includes the modern Gangmen Harbor, Yazhou, Sanya, Yalong Bay, Tentquiogang, Tufu Bay, Xincun Harbor Lingshi and Dazhou Island.

Haldane surveyed the region in 1776-77, during a stopover aboard the Sandwich, while waiting for wind conditions to improve to complete a voyage to Canton.
