Description:

Exceptional map of South America, at the outset of its Century of Independence.

The map is a fine large format two sheet version of one of the great maps of South America, drawn from Faden's 8 sheet map of South America, issued in 1807. One of the most detailed maps of this fascinating period in the history of South America, just after the the continent was first swept with the Revolutionary forces which would change its history (and remove Spanish and Portugese Colonial rule) over the next 40 years.

An essential map for collectors.

Detailed Condition:

A bit of offsetting, as usual, but a fine example of this map, which is now rare on the market, especially in the early editions of the map.
