Description:

Detailed map of Africa, from an early edition of the Bertius-Hondius Tabularum geographicarum contractarum libri septem. . . .

The map shows a curiously configured Philippines and Japan, along with the Island of "Corea", along with a clear depiction of the Great Wall of China.

The configuration of the Ganges River is quite marvelous, covering a massive area of eastern India, Bangladesh and Myanmar. The shape of the Malaysian Peninsula is quite unusual. An island appears in the area of Singapore, but is unnamed.
