Description:

Rare sea chart of the west coast of Africa, oriented with east at the top, produced by Gerard Van Keulen in Amsterdam around 1738.

The map stretches from the mouth of the Congo River in the south to what is today Port-Gentil in Gabon in the north, thus covering the coasts of Gabon, Congo Brazzaville, and the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

The chart includes insets of the mouth of the Congo River and the area around Cape Lopez in Gabon. There are also two coastal profiles.

A scarce Van Keulen chart.
