Description:

Early pictorial map of the Disneyland theme park, from 1968.

The map includes the recently completed Adventures Thru Inner Space attraction. The House of the Future is no longer shown.

This is the initial or A version of the map, which features text in some areas that were later removed for the B version's printing. The map measures approximately 30" x 45" and is in good condition with noticeable wear and discoloration along the edges in the borders, and it has been mounted to board. This particular piece was likely not a publicly sold souvenir, as it does not have the fold lines typical of maps that were sold at the park.
