Description:

Nice example of Anthony Finley's map of Alabama from a rare late edition of his General Atlas, one of the earliest obtainable separate maps of Alabama.

The map is hand-colored by counties and shows towns, roads, rivers, mountains, and other geographical features.

The county configuration is more filled out in this late state of the map.

The later states (i.e., after 1829) of the Finley maps tend to be quite hard to find.

Detailed Condition:

Original hand-color by county.
