Description:

Early Appearance of Dallas!

A gorgeous example of Flemming's four-sheet map of the United States, published in Glogau circa 1850.

The map includes a fine image of the early United States territorial borders, Indian Districts, forts, early routes of the Transmississippi explorers, and other details.

Many Indian tribes, forts, missions, roads, and other details are shown.

Includes a very unusual tomahawk-shaped Indian Territory and massive Minnesota, Nebraska, and Missouri Territories. New Mexico and Arizona are joined, and Utah is in a State of Deseret configuration. The map includes, intriguingly, an inset of the Galapagos.

One of the great pre-Gadsden Purchase atlas maps.

Detailed Condition:

Two stone lithograph supplemented with original hand-color, in outline. Four sheets, unjoined.
