Description:

Scarce early map of Hispaniola, first published by Magini in 1596.

The map is based upon the map from Porcacchi's L'Isole, first published in 1572.

One of the earliest obtainable maps of the Island and one of the few published in the 16th Century. Excellent topographical detail, if a bit conjectural, and naming many locations. Includes decorative cartouche, 4 sea monsters, 2 sailing ships and a compass rose. Also shows Tortuga.
