Description:

This striking 1971 NASA "Red Letter" chromogenic color photograph, measuring 8 by 10 inches, showcases the Apollo 15 Command and Service Module (CSM) in lunar orbit, as captured from the Lunar Module (LM). The image, printed on Kodak Paper with a watermark on the verso, bears the NASA image ID "NASA AS15-88-11872" in the top margin. The scene provides a breathtaking perspective, looking southeast into the Sea of Fertility, with the prominent crater Taruntius situated at the right-center edge of the photograph. The image serves as a compelling reminder of the remarkable accomplishments of the Apollo 15 mission and the enduring spirit of human space exploration.
