Description:

This pictorial map, illustrated by Philippe Convain, is a detailed and vibrant representation of the Circuit de Monaco. The circuit is a renowned street course used for the Formula One Monaco Grand Prix. The map features an array of advertisements for local businesses, indicating its intended use as promotional material for the businesses around the Grand Prix track.

The phone numbers might help date the map to before 1996, when Monaco changed the code format it used. In general the map seems to have been done between 1980 and 1990.

The map appears to be quite rare; this being the only example we can trace online.

Detailed Condition:

Linen-backed.
